Snelling Staffing, a full-service nationwide workforce solutions provider, has been named to the esteemed Forbes list of Best Professional Recruiting Firms.

Forbes, in partnership with Statista, collected data to compile two annual lists: the first for professional search firms that focus on permanent placement of professional and specialist positions earning up to $100,000 annually, and the second for executive search firms dedicated to the permanent placement of executive positions with at an annual income of more than $100,000. The rankings were derived from a survey of 18,000 recruiters, 3,000 candidates, and 500 HR managers that have been clients of recruitment firms.

“Snelling works hard to help others achieve the success they desire. We make service a priority, and we are proud and honored to be recognized for our efforts in this way,” said Tim Faber, CEO of Snelling Staffing.

The honor comes on the heels of being recognized by Inavero as one of its Best of Staffing® Client Diamond Award winners for 2017. Winners of the Best of Staffing® Client Diamond must have been awarded the Best of Staffing® Client Satisfaction Award at least five years in a row.
